In claim 1, please delete "and" in (line 5); and insert after "the first defined control grid" (line 15) ---; accessing control grid position information for the machine; obtaining position information for a second external processor; and using the control grid position information and the external processor or the second external processor based upon the position of each of the external processor and the second external processor ---.

In claim 15, please delete "and" (line 5); and insert after "the first defined control grid" (line 17) ---; means for accessing control grid position information for the first machine; means for obtaining position information for a second external processor; and means for using the control grid position information and the first external processor or the second external processor based upon the position of each of the first external processor and the second external processor ---.

In claim 16, please delete "and" (line 7); and insert after "the first defined control grid" (line 16) ---; accessing control grid position information for the machine; obtaining position information for a second external processor; and using the control grid position information and the external processor or the second external processor based upon the position of each of the external processor and the second external processor ---.
